

Why book with us?

Uyaphi Safaris (of which WildTanzania.com is part of) was founded in 1999, we have grown from strength to strength, year in and year out.

Based in Cape Town (South Africa), we have extensive knowledge of the continent Africa and all that is related.

Reasons to consider us when looking to book a safari:

- We were established in 1999, and are able to offer a vast and spectacular portfolio of Tanzanian and African based travel experiences.
- We currently have over 3 000 + products on offer (through out our whole portfolio) with new products and travel information being added each day.
- We are members of and registered with our governing bodies for tourism; ATTA and SATSA, and are SATSA bonded ensuring we have all the relevant insurances in place, covering us for any unforeseen events.
- We are situated on the continent and are therefore in the best situation to have full control over any travel arrangements. While our offices are in Cape Town, the ground handlers we utilize across the African continent are right there should you have any problems or should anything, in the very unlikely event, go wrong.
- We are also contactable 24 hours a day - for your peace of mind we have an emergency after-hours mobile number, in order to contact us before, during or after your stay. We understand you will be in a foreign country and would like you to feel at ease and know that you are in very safe and capable hands.
- Unlike most other travel agencies, we do not charge any service or credit card fees; what we quote you is what you pay. We also understand that with the current economic situation, the need to make your hard earned money stretch as far as possible is as important as ever and are therefore more than happy to try and negotiate the best prices for you and your wallet and offer you a discounted rate as per our conversation.
- With regards to the flights, we are more than happy to book your flights for you.
- Remember; we live in Africa, we know Africa, this is what we do and we do it best!
- Between us we have traveled, worked, enjoyed and experienced most of what Africa has on offer.

We specialize in the fact that we can offer you exactly what you are looking for irrespective of budget, group size or special requirements. With particular interest in developing honest and open relationships to ensure that your safari is the best it can possibly be.
